Customer mode devices receive it and verify whether the number of configuration review that received is recent or not comparing its own configuration number by the number received. In a switched environment it can be used to test the functionality of the switch and/or maintain the MAC address of the router in the switch addresses table. If you are studying for the exam, if free of omitting this article. Self-configuration in an internet exchange is a very bad idea. These are: VTP version must be the same in the switches that the user wishes to configure the configuration domain name : Server "The switches: The switches are configured in this default mode. Similarly, if you want to eliminate a VLAN, you just need to eliminate it in a switch, and the change automatically spreads any other switch within the same VTP domain. The next network topology explains the most thorough concept: in SW1, we, we, we, we, we, we have created a new VLAN. This is tride that is not IP and does not take place in AMS-IX. 4.2.8 IPV6 ND-R IPV6 router ads are not allowed; they generate much unnecessary Trospitics, since IPV6 hosts in AMS-IX are not self-configured and also, you don't want to be the router predetermined for AMS-IX as a whole.
